Author of Bestseller, THE MEMORY BOX, Attends Book Clubs Worldwide

Westfield, N.J. – Award winning author, Eva Lesko Natiello, recently attended a book club in Colonia, NJ after they chose to read her psychological thriller, THE MEMORY BOX.

“I was thrilled that my book was chosen by this club especially because they’ve been together for over twelve years and they’ve read a lot of books!” said Natiello of her recently released thriller title. THE MEMORY BOX is a story about a woman who Googles herself and discovers the shocking details of a past she doesn’t remember. The book was named the 2014 #1 Bestselling book (adult fiction and non-fiction) at The Town Book Store in Westfield, New Jersey. “There is a list of discussion questions in the back of the book which helps some clubs to jump in.”

“We’ve never had an author attend one of our meetings,” said Susan Filzen, one book club member, “It was so interesting to hear about the writing and publishing process and to get our questions answered by the author herself!”

“I’ve been overwhelmed by the reaction,” admits Natiello. “THE MEMORY BOX has been especially popular with book clubs. I think because it’s a fast read with lots of twists and turns and a shocking ending that people want to talk about.” The author has attended over 100 book clubs worldwide since releasing the book, with the farthest book club being in Scotland, which she attended via Skype. Natiello is also available to answer her readers’ questions on Goodreads, where fans of the book can test their knowledge by taking a MEMORY BOX quiz.
